Atlanta Ronald McDonald House Charities

Beth Howell is President & CEO of Atlanta Ronald McDonald House Charities (ARMHC), a non-profit organization dedicated to providing temporary housing and support services to families with ill and injured children being treated at local hospitals. She is responsible for operations of 2 houses that currently include 81 rooms, as well as Atlanta's first Ronald McDonald Care Mobile program. The Care Mobile's mission is to bring asthma care to children where they live, learn, and play. Under her leadership the organization will be launching a new Ronald McDonald Family Room program this year located on the inpatient oncology floor of Children's Healthcare of Atlanta. The Family Room will provide a peaceful place of respite for families, which allows parents to better communicate with their child's medical team and improves adherence to complicated treatment plans.

Prior to her tenure at ARMHC, Howell worked for Children's Healthcare of Atlanta for over two decades. She joined Children's in 1990 to assist with program planning. In 2001, she became Chief Compliance Officer and was promoted to Vice President of Corporate Oversight in 2004, before being named Vice President of Academic Administration in 2008. As Vice President of Academic Administration, Howell led the expansion efforts related to research and teaching in collaboration with academic partners, such as Emory University and the Georgia Institute of Technology.

Howell also served as the Administrative Director of the Pediatric Center of Georgia, a non-profit corporation supporting Children's Healthcare of Atlanta and Emory University. The Pediatric Center includes more than 300 Emory University School of Medicine faculty working in more than 20 specialties and subspecialties that are actively involved with pediatric clinical care, teaching, research and child advocacy efforts in Georgia and throughout the Southeast.

Howell is a native of Atlanta and earned her bachelor's degree from Agnes Scott College.
